

MATT FAWCETT SVP General Counsel and Secretary, NetApp

“Customers are our biggest priority. NetApp employees are committed to going above and beyond, anytime, anywhere to solve a customer problem.”

For the technology companies that count on NetApp to power their online infrastructure, enterprise-class customer service is absolutely mission-critical. That reliability and service orientation is exactly what NetApp consistently delivers, going above and beyond for all customers, anywhere in the world. We do the same for NetApp—not just with deft legal work, but with the entire Perkins Coie experience.
