U of Colorado Chief Operating Officer Patrick O’Rourke Discusses All Things Higher Ed

06.12.2020  |  PODCASTS

The University of Colorado's Interim Executive Vice Chancellor and Chief Operating Officer Patrick O’Rourke discusses experiences including his path from private practitioner to the GC and then COO of one of the Nation's premier educational institutions, the reality of higher ed in the age of COVID-19, his most memorable matters (including the “Aurora Theater Shooter” James Holmes investigation and the trial involving infamous former Colorado professor Ward Churchill), what a GC looks for in outside counsel, and tips for attorneys seeking to succeed in a higher-ed in-house position.

Note that all episodes are available on Apple Podcast, Google Podcast, and Spotify.

CONTACTS

T. Markus Funk, Ph.D.
Partner
Denver
D +1.303.291.2371

RELATED SERVICES

PRACTICES

- White Collar & Investigations
- Coronavirus (COVID-19): Guidance for Businesses

RELATED NEWS & INSIGHT

PODCASTS
05.18.2020
A Corporate Insider’s Guide to Internal Investigations

PODCASTS
05.22.2020
Supply Chain & Trafficking Chat With a Federal Judge

PODCASTS
06.10.2020
A Candid Conversation With Joel Esquenazi

PODCASTS
06.11.2020
The New Normal With Ross Mansbach

© 2020 Perkins Coie LLP